Brief Summary of Discussion (200 words max): We discussed about the tools we needed for the prototype. Since the prototype should be low-fidelity, we did not need to consider having interactive designs. Apart from that we also did our MoSCoW prioritisation, where we first identified our “Must have” features and slowly worked out way down. For our user stories, we just adapted it from the personas we created in our last deliverable.
Agreed Actions: We agreed on using Figma for our prototyping and each of us were responsible for a feature, we also agreed on a generalised layout.

Issues:

No issues, conversations were clear and concise, and there was no objection to anything we finalised upon.
